PITTSYLVANIA COUNTY

VARIANCE PROCESS

A variance means, in the application of a zoning ordinance, a reasonable deviation from those provisions regulating the size or area of a lot or parcel of land, or the size, area, bulk or location of a building or structure when the strict application of the Ordinance would effectively prohibit or unreasonably restrict the use of the property to an extent approaching confiscation. The need for a variance is not generally shared by other properties. The variance shall not be contrary to the intended spirit and purpose of the ordinance, and shall result in substantial justice being done. It shall not include a change in use which change shall be accomplished by a rezoning.

The Board of Zoning Appeals may grant a variance when the property owner can show that his property was acquired in good faith and where by reason of

- a. exceptional narrowness, shallowness, size, or shape of the property
- b. exceptional topographic conditions or other extraordinary conditions of the property; or
- c. extraordinary conditions of an adjacent property the strict application of the terms of the ordinance would effectively prohibit or unreasonably restrict the use of the property.

The board must be satisfied that granting the variance will alleviate a clearly demonstrable hardship approaching confiscation, as distinguished from a special privilege or convenience sought by the applicant. No such variance shall be authorized by the board unless it finds:

- a. That the strict application of the ordinance would produce undue hardship.
- b. That such hardship is not shared generally by other properties in the same zoning district and the same vicinity.
- c. That the authorization of such variance will not be of substantial detriment to adjacent property and that the character of the district will not be changed by the granting of the variance.
